

Anchoring Pool

The Anchoring Pool of Maharaja Agrasen College (University of Delhi) initiated its journey as a specific three-four-member group in the year 2018. However, through continuous and sustained rounds of hard-work, auditioning procedures and an expanding visibility in the college; today, this group consists of around 70-75 students and is one of the vibrant branches of the MAC-ECA family. In the past two years, this Pool has not only provided some of the best speakers and anchors for stage- managing various college occasions in physical, online and the hybrid mode, but has also initiated the journey of organising specialist workshops, training sessions and development modules for its members. With an increasing focus on bi-lingual and multi-lingual skills while speaking and articulating; this Pool combines the outcome of best learning and skill-enhancement in the field of phonetics, body-language, pronunciation, voice-modulation, articulation, diction and balance of verbal and non-verbal cues. It especially is an enabling platform for budding speakers who are fresh entrants to University life and are seeking a platform for not just building their overall speaking skills but all-round personality development as well.
